Sphinx Annual
1933

Foreword

The 1933 Sphinx Annual Staff has endeavored, in the construction of this book, to present the life at Centralia Township High School as it actually has been during the past year. We hope that our efforts will be rewarded by the recollection of many happy memories to our readers.

Dedication

To

Miss Josephine Harris, whose characteristics of sincere friendship and genial personality have made her one of the most loved of our faculty, and by whose wise and willing counsel we have profited, we the Senior Class of '33 dedicate this Sphinx.

Year Review

Another year of school and life has passed. Here is the story. In the history of this brief period everyone has contributed in effect. Whether consciously or unconsciously, voluntarily or involuntarily, actively or passively, each person has added some influence. This beautiful record in story and picture represents the composite contributions and influences. It is the treasure deposit for the future where each can come and again take out what he has put in. The book will hold a thousand interpretations, memories, and suggestions. It will be the same for every year of life. We make our own memory book, store our own treasures, and live on the produce thereof.

Sincerely,

Oscar M. Corbell.

Seniors

Senior Class History

In the fall of '29 we entered the friendly portals of C. T. H. S., the usual group of "we don't know what it's all about" freshmen. But in the natural course of events we became organized and chose our class officers. William Mooney was chosen as president by the boys, and Ruth Haney by the girls. Many entertaining class meetings were held during the year, and in February a rousing good time was had at our St. Valentine's party. Finally the year came to a close, and we had passed the "freshman stage".

Our sophomore officers were: William Mooney, president; Nelson Randle, vice president; Pauline Fisher, secretary; and Frances Davies, treasurer.

In our junior year we began the part of our school career that will be most deeply etched in our memories. Our officers were: William Mooney, president; Frances Davies, secretary; Pauline Fisher, treasurer; and Miss Langham as sponsor.

Efforts were immediately undertaken to gain funds with which to entertain the seniors at the annual Junior-Senior Reception. Christmas cards were sold, and in December, under the competent supervision of Miss Langham, an amusing three-act comedy, "Her Step-husband," was presented.

We returned in '32 with a new sense of our own importance as seniors. Class officers were chosen with Nelson Randle, president; William Mooney, vice president; Roybn James, secretary-treasurer; and Miss Spurlin as class sponsor.

The cast for "Tommy," the senior class play, has been selected and will be presented in June, under the capable instruction of Miss Spurlin.

The attendants to the May Queen for the past four years were: freshmen, Frances Davies and Margaret Coon; sophomore, Frances Davies and Pauline Fisher; junior, Margaret Coon and Frances Davies; senior, Lucile Root and Ruth Wilson. Laura Belle Zarbock was elected queen of this year's May Fete.

Our most fervent desire is that the coming classes have as happy and eventful high school life as we have had. And now we bid Au Revoir to C. T. H. S. and face the future with many happy recollections of former school days.

Activities

Standing—Norene Gaetti, Tressa Maloney, Laura Belle Zarbock, Grace Ward, Kathryn Prater
Seated—Nell Greenalt, Lucile Root, Ruth Wilson, Dorothy June Jensen.

May Queen and Attendants

The title of the 1933 May Fete was "Queen's Carnival" and the carnival idea was carried throughout the entire program.

Immediately after the coronation of the 1933 Queen, Miss Laura Belle Zarbock, by the retiring queen, Miss Cynthia Faulkner, the troupe of carnival performers, consisting of girls from the Physical Education class, entered the arena and entertained the spectators with exhibitions of their skill in performing various feats.

The program consisted of human pyramids, beautifully constructed, attractive marching drills, various entertaining performances by tumblers, Indian club drills, which were performed with much skill and accuracy, a unique midnight cat dance, and many amusing performances by clowns.

Standing—Alex Dumoulin, Miss Spurlin, Jack Weigel, Glenna Adams, Robert Boyle, Marjorie Sundermeyer, Joe Lazaretti.
Seated—John Wood, Pauline Fisher, Nelson Randle.

Senior Class Play

"TOMMY"

Tommy Mills, a prominent young banker	- - -	John Wood
Bernard, an enterprising young automobile salesman	- -	Nelson Randle
Marie Thurber, a very popular young lady	- -	Pauline Fisher
Warren Thurber, a would-be successful business man	- -	Jack Weigel
Mrs. Thurber, who craves attention and flattery	- -	Glenna Adams
David Tuttle, the local political boss	- - -	Robert Boyle
Judge Wilson, a neighbor of the Thurbers	- -	Alex Dumoulin
Mrs. Wilson, a social leader	- - -	Marjorie Sundermeyer
Willie Wilson, their young son	- - -	Joe Lazaretti

This romantic comedy is the story of a youth who brings candy to his would-be mother-in-law, cigars to his would-be father-in-law, and shows himself such a paragon of virtue that the affection of his fiance is checked. Another youth of the romantic type is very much in love with the same girl and a highly complicated situation develops.

Through its many unforeseen happenings and hair-breadth escapes, this three-act farce holds the audience in suspense until the final curtain falls.

Standing—Lowell Spurgeon, Erma Warren, Walter Plassman, Mary E. Bell, Dudley Klamp, Eleanor Jane Hall, Frederick Steinwax, Mary Lou Koehler, Irene Langham.
Seated—Leta Fern Kell, Jesse Stonecipher, Theresa Boyd, John Robertson, Sue Haussler, Charles Wilson, Dorothy Heyduck, Seaton Pearson.

Junior Class Play

"WHO WOULDN'T BE CRAZY?"

Speedy Marshall, just out of college, with high-powered cars and airplanes to play with, while evading a traffic cop gets himself interned in an asylum for mild mental cases, and his father decides to let him stay there to be cured of his speed mania. He meets there the beautiful Lois Meredith whom he has tagged all over Europe, and also meets a group of society girls rehearsing a play for the inmates—in fact, the place is gay with social butterflies. Then events take a most unexpected turn—Speedy turns them—and exciting action follows fast and furious. Then followed a jewel robbery and kidnapping. The interest in the play was tense and it was filled with clever lines.

The parts were all equally distributed and were all well filled. Among the characters in the play were: the lovely, spirited Lois, the appealing Evelyn, the three mischievous girls, Speedy's father, Pendie a "chocolate-colored" angel, the head nurse, inmates 1 and 2, who were both funny and mysterious, Pluribus, a colored boy in love with Pendie—and how! Reggie—well, he was just what the name implies, and McCafferty was the hard boiled traffic cop.

The play was a huge success and everyone went crazy about it—and who wouldn't be?

Band

One sees and hears the C. T. H. S. concert and marching bands so often, one fails to realize how valuable they are. At every home athletic game, and a few out of town, our band has played and marched. Surely, that is a record to be proud of!

Directed by C. Scripps Beebee the band presented a commendable concert in the spring.

Popular Orchestra

This musical organization has again proved itself very useful as well as popular, having furnished entertainment for many occasions.

Several places, which were vacated by last year's graduation, had to be filled. Among them was that of leader, for which Lewis Daniel Elliston was chosen.

Mixed Chorus

Many lovely numbers have been heard from the Mixed Chorus during 1932-1933, for which the credit is due to the earnest efforts of the members, and the director, C. Scripps Beebee. Some of the students in this group went carolling at Christmas time, as well as admirably assisting in a program.

These more advanced students have been doing quite difficult work, in the form of a capella singing.

Seventh Hour Chorus

The purpose of this group of vocalists, under the direction of C. Scripps Beebee, is to prepare for advanced chorus work. The seventh hour chorus is composed only of girls, those from the freshman class for whom it is required before admission to the Mixed Chorus, and those who prefer it to the other kind of vocal work. The results from this hard-working group of singers have been most gratifying.

Orchestra

The past year has been quite satisfactory for the high school concert orchestra. The enrollment, particularly during the second semester, has been good.

Under the direction of C. Scripps Beebee, this organization has furnished music for many important occasions, notably the County Teachers' Meeting, Music Department, Annual Concerts, and Commencement.

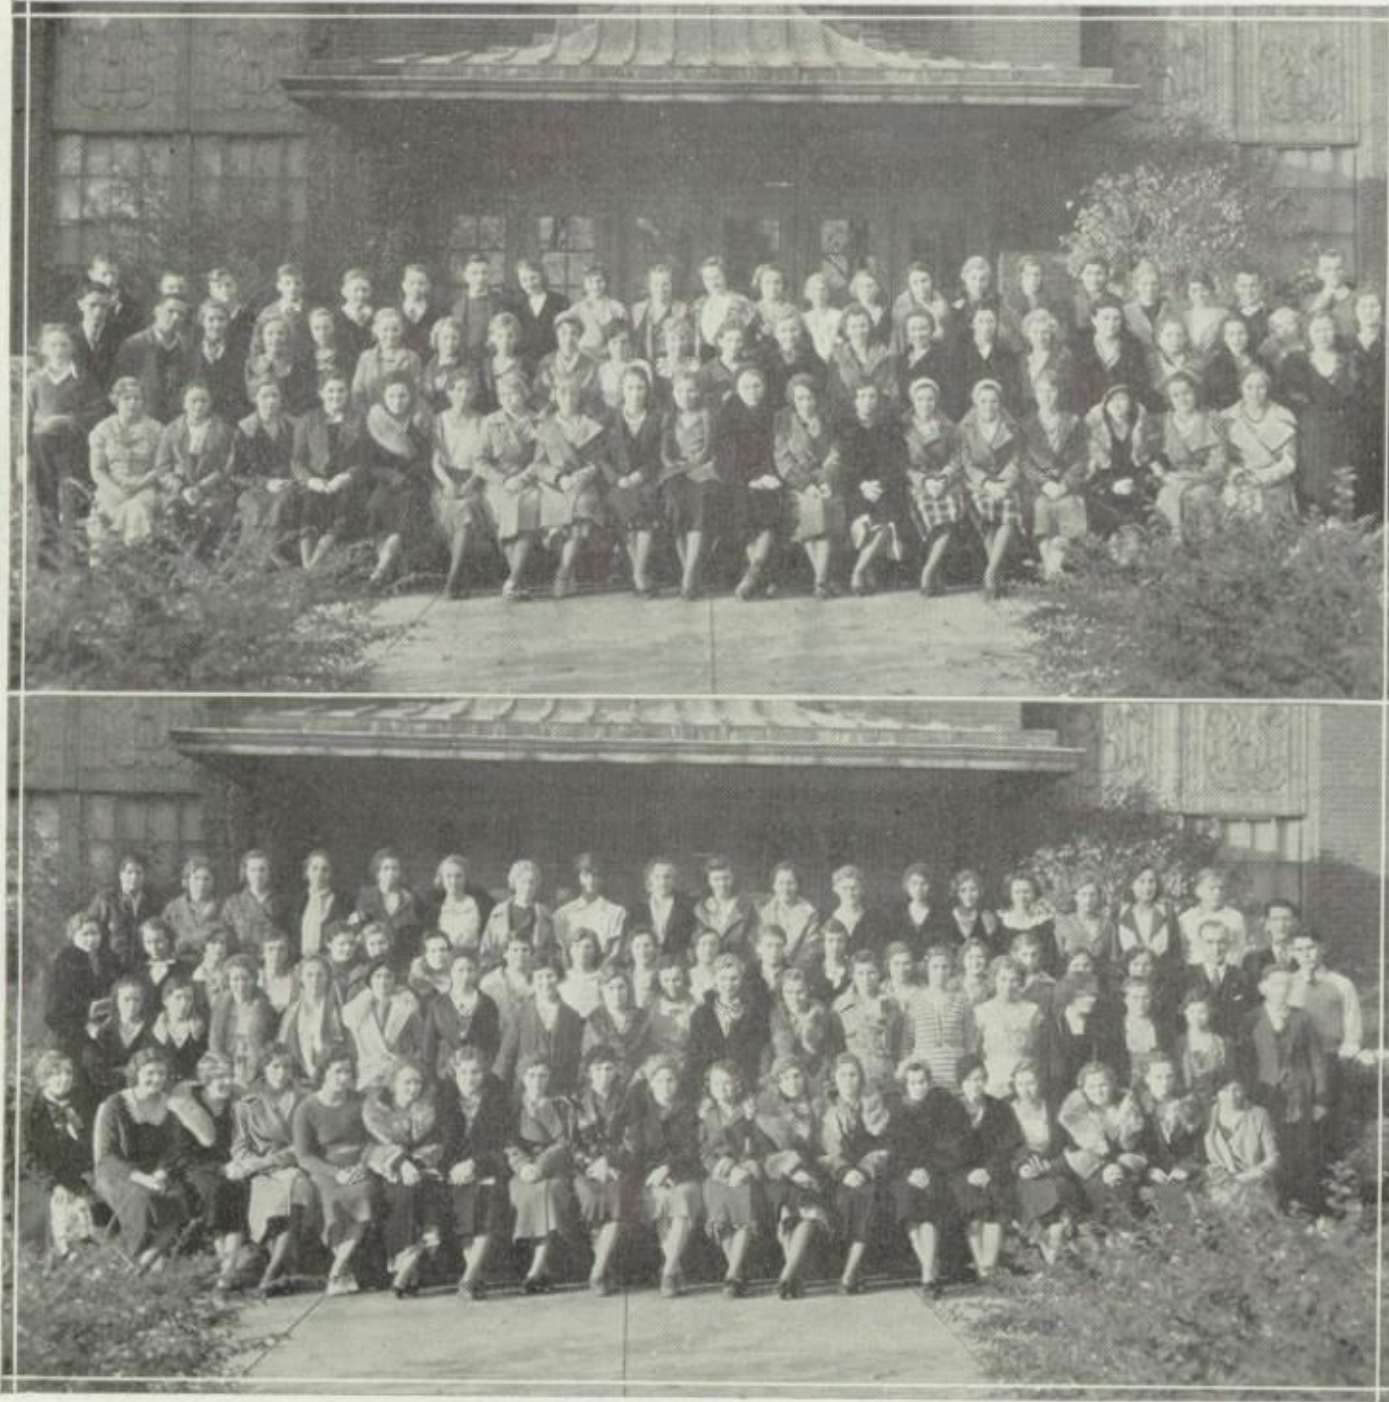

Post Graduate Club

Due to the many students enrolled for post graduate work this year, they formed as the other groups did with Miss Goessling as their sponsor. The meetings have consisted mostly of informal discussions on such subjects as etiquette and current events.

This organization was responsible for a very successful Charity Show at Thanksgiving, as well as their conducting the annual Christmas Seal Sale.

Iris Literary Society

Under the able direction of Miss Stedelin and Miss Jennings this literary society held its meetings alternately in the auditorium and room 100B. At the meetings, in charge of program committees chosen from the ranks of the members, plays, readings, dialogues, and musical numbers were given by the talent of the club.

Delphic Literary Society

Under the able direction of Miss Merz, Mrs. Gerould, and Mr. Herfurth, the Delphic Literary Society launched forth upon a most successful year. They held their meetings in the auditorium and room 100B alternately with the Iris.

The programs were varied but always planned and directed by a committee appointed from the club roll. To get an activity credit a member must take part in at least one program.

Latin II Club

The Latin II Club is composed of students having one or more years of Latin. This year's sponsor is Miss Phillips.

This year a new idea was used in this club. Besides the reports on Roman life and the Roman gods, short Latin and English plays were presented. This proved very entertaining as well as educational.

Latin I Club

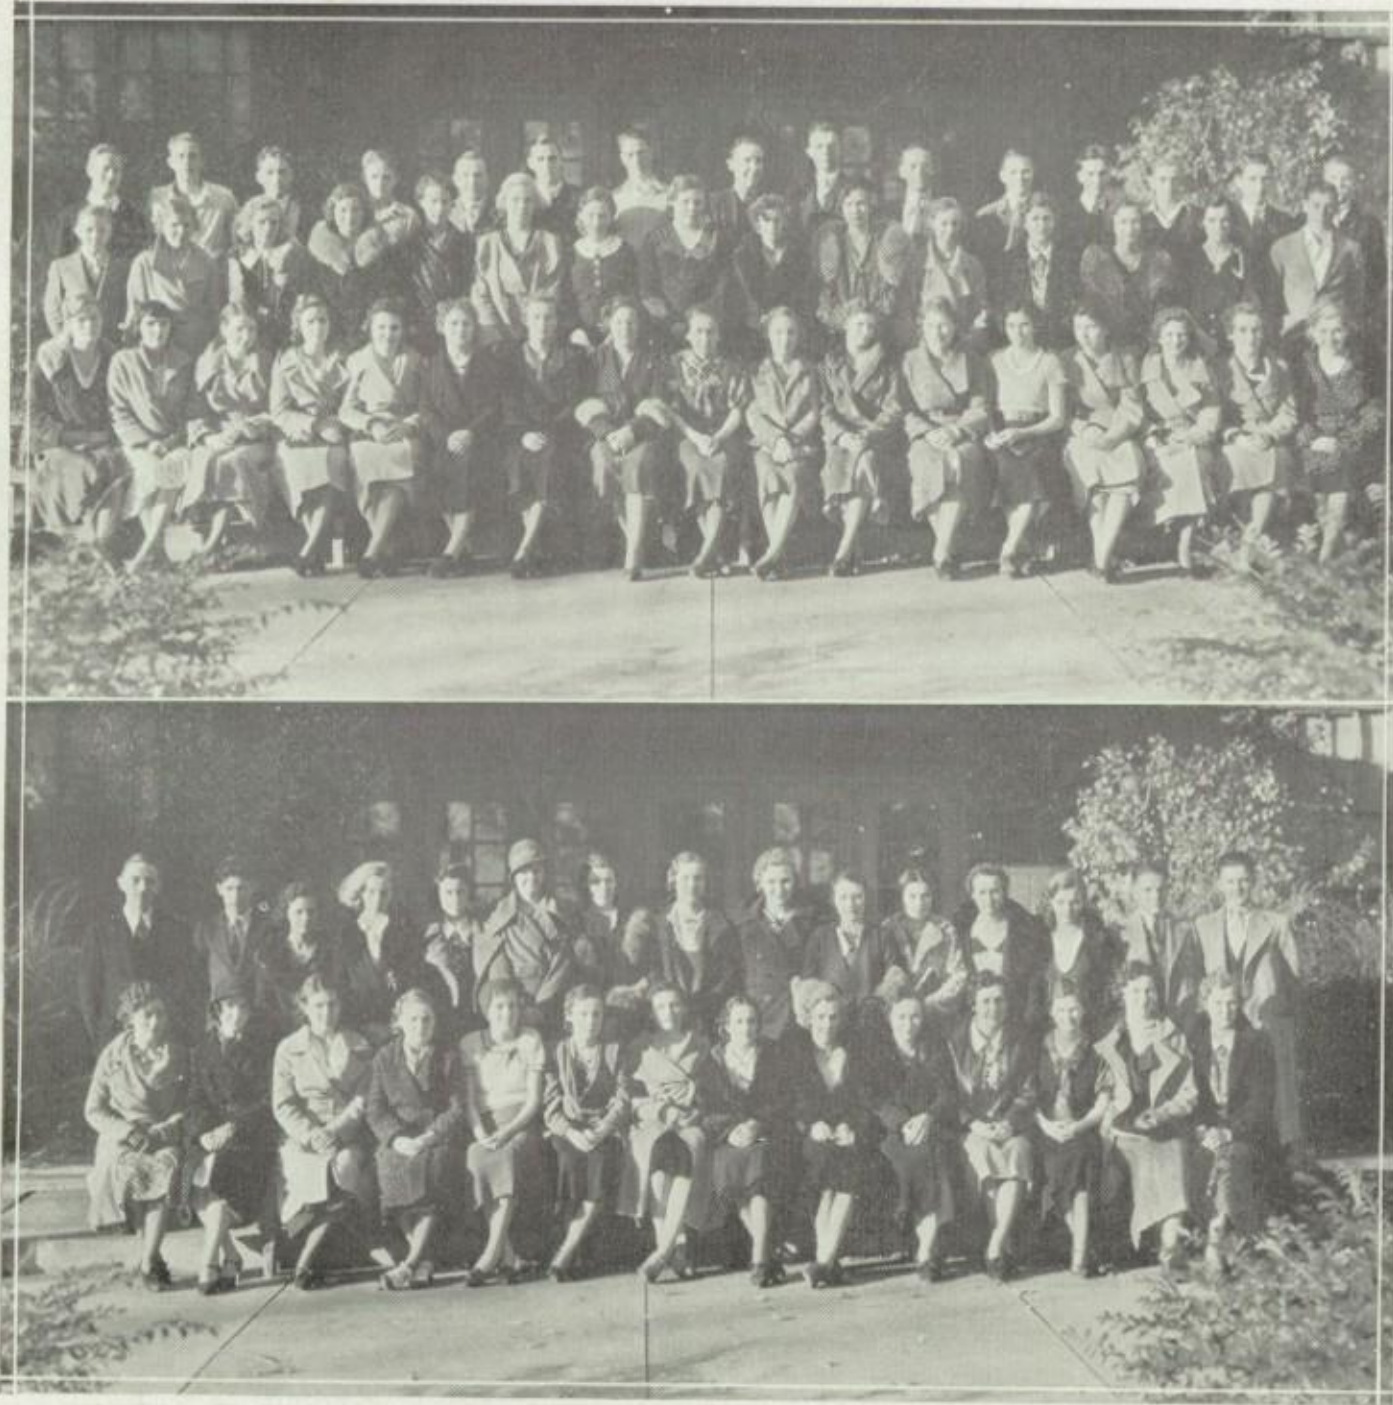

The Latin I Club is composed of students taking first year Latin. They chose "Discipuli Antiquorum" as their name for this year. Their sponsor is Miss Curtis.

The program committee arranged for very interesting meetings at which talks were given by the club members of the Roman gods and goddesses, the wanderings of Ulysses, and phases of Roman private life.

German Club

This club, under the supervision of Miss Luther, is composed of students either taking or having taken first year German.

Their meetings are of a very interesting nature especially if one doesn't speak German. They play German games, sing songs in German and have reports on the people, customs, and life of this country. The purpose of the German Club is to further the students' interest in the subject.

Commercial Club

This organization has been unusually active during the year, having many interesting meetings. The entertainments varied, including musical numbers, reports on different businesses by the club members, and short plays. A special feature has been the talks by local business men.

The sponsors of the club have been Misses McDowell and Smith, and Mr. Rau.

Romance Languages Club

The French and Spanish classes combined this year to form one club under the sponsorship of Miss Kessing. Each group has its own officers.

This club's meetings have been most interesting, composed of studies and reports of the customs, manner, and holidays of France and Spain.

Debate Team

The question for debate this year is: Resolved: That at least one-half of all state and local revenues should be derived from sources other than taxes on tangible property.

The members of the team are: Gene Lederer, Russel Evers, Mary Lou Stockman, Eleanor Jane Hall, Raymond Rethard, and Dorothy Zucker.

Debate Club

Every club day you can hear interesting talks issuing over the transom of the room occupied by the Debate Club. The main object of this club is to encourage ease in public speaking, also to sponsor a Debate Team for inter-scholastic competition. Several topics of the day were debated in the club this year. Impromptu speeches on humorous subjects such as "cats" were given by members as well as sponsors who are Miss Seiler and Mr. Spencer.

Home Economics Club

This organization is composed of girls who are pursuing the courses of domesticity, under the leadership of Misses Bledsoe, Titsworth and Helm.

A special feature of the enjoyable meetings of this club has been the style show. The members were the models and many helpful hints were derived from it and the general discussions on clothes.

Hi-Y Club

The Hi-Y was an active club of 30 members, and was sponsored by Mr. Fortney. This club met every Tuesday evening at the First Methodist Church. Much has been gained by the boys from talks given by prominent Centralians. They gave the incoming Freshmen a welcoming party as is the custom.

The purpose of this club is to create, maintain and extend throughout the school and community, high standards of Christian character.

Future Farmers

The Future Farmers with Mr. Clarida as their sponsor met in the gym. The programs vary but music is one number that always goes over big with the members.

At one meeting during the year they charged some article of food for admission. The results were very gratifying, and the food went to needy persons in Centralia.

Radio Club

The Radio Club, sponsored by Mr. Atkins, held its meetings both at club period and after school. The purpose of this club is to study the set-up of radios in general.

The programs, consisting of talks given by men who work with radios, have proved very beneficial to the boys.

Sphinx Weekly

The Sphinx Weekly is our high school publication. It has for a number of years filled a need and performed a service in our school life that is second in importance to no other activity. The personnel has unlimited opportunities for developing individuality in ideas and skill in the art of writing.

The Weekly Staff was selected by Mr. Montgomery with a view to electing to membership only those whose scholarship and school citizenship was of such high character as to merit this distinction.

Standing—Kaelin, Hite, Seely, Ellison, Stinson, Zarbock, Diehl, Adams, Bennett, McCloskey, Helck, Weber, Montgomery.
Sitting—Barr, Wilson, Kell, Meichael, Fisher, McMeen, Barr, Stockman, Frost, Ford, Craig, Bronson, Root, Bozzett

Sphinx Annual

After the selection of this staff by faculty members, it began work immediately, in the fall. More meetings were held than has previously been the custom from which resulted subscription campaigns and picture schedules.

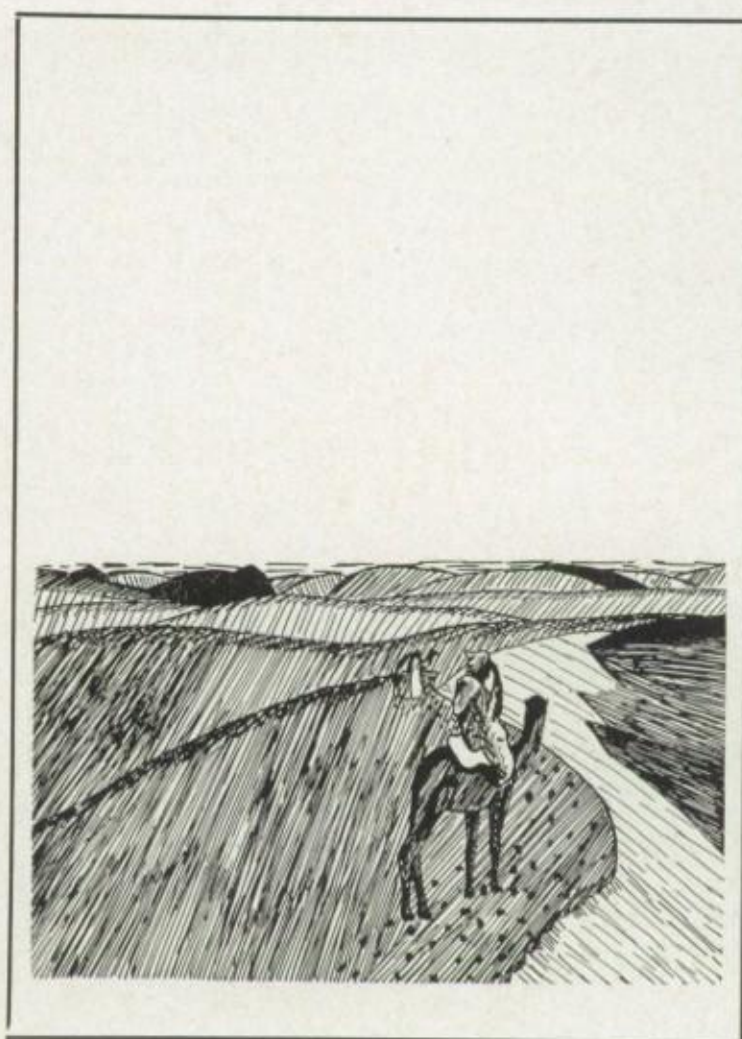

Much credit is due to Aline Allen, editor-in-chief and Mr. M. C. Lichtenwalter, for the success of our 1933 year-book. The financial situation for the Sphinx Annual was ably managed by John Pate. The staff has learned many interesting facts in this phase of journalism from their strenuous efforts in publishing this book.

Standing—J. Jones, A. Dumoulin, J. Weigel, J. Pate, G. Wilson, L. Lent, M. C. Lichtenwalter.
Seated—M. Prater, M. Spieth, M. Coon, M. Sundermeyer, A. Allen, B. Adams, D. Kaney, J. Spangler, V. Gillman.

Athletics

The Athletic Season

Although six first string football men were lost through graduation last year, C. T. H. S. came through with a highly successful season. The football team was handicapped early in the season by several injuries but the difficulties were not very serious as was later proven when several second string boys stepped up and filled the various positions to perfection.

A. L. Trout

The Troutmen were confronted with an unusually hard schedule, but they proved themselves quite capable of meeting their opposition by winning a majority of their games and losing a few by very narrow margins.

For the second time in his athletic career at C. T. H. S. Lowell Spurgeon was placed on the All State squad. Captain Harold Sweckard received Honorable Mention in the All State selections.

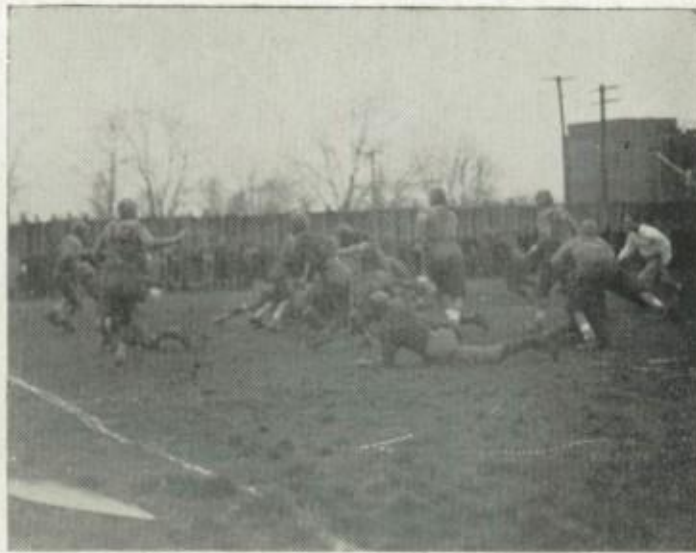

With plenty of good material remaining, we can look forward to another successful season next year in football.

The basketball season opened in excellent form and the team came through with victories for the majority of its games, losing only 3 out of 26 games. Mt. Vernon and Salem, our nearest rivals, were defeated in both games with each, while both games with Bruceville, Indiana, Coach Trout's home town, were lost in overtime periods by two points in each game. Lawrenceville handed our team its other defeat. This being the only conference game lost, Centralia won the Conference Championship.

In the Sandoval District, Centralia easily won, but was defeated in the final game of the Sectional Tournament at Salem by Gillispie.

The Track Team had an unusually successful season, winning the conference meet and several others, and setting several new records in various places where they were entered in track meets.

We believe that all our teams for this year have been among the finest we have ever seen and we express our thanks and appreciation to the boys for the splendid work and sportsmanship they have shown. All these things go to build up the fine reputation that C. T. H. S. has and the high standing in regards to school spirit and sportsmanship that the school has maintained for many years.

Capt. Harold Sweckard (Tiny)
 Tiny was our crack center who came through with his share by his dependable passes.

Lowell Spurgeon (Lubey)
 Spurgeon was our triple threat back. This was his third year of varsity football and he will be back next year.

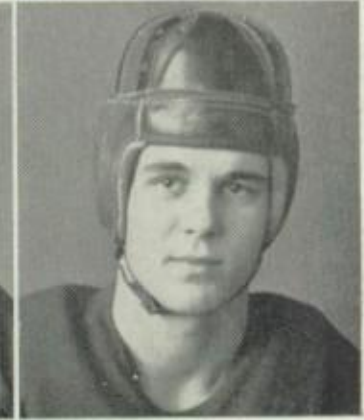

Gerald Keller (Doc)
 Doc was our other little guard. He was especially good in open field blocking.

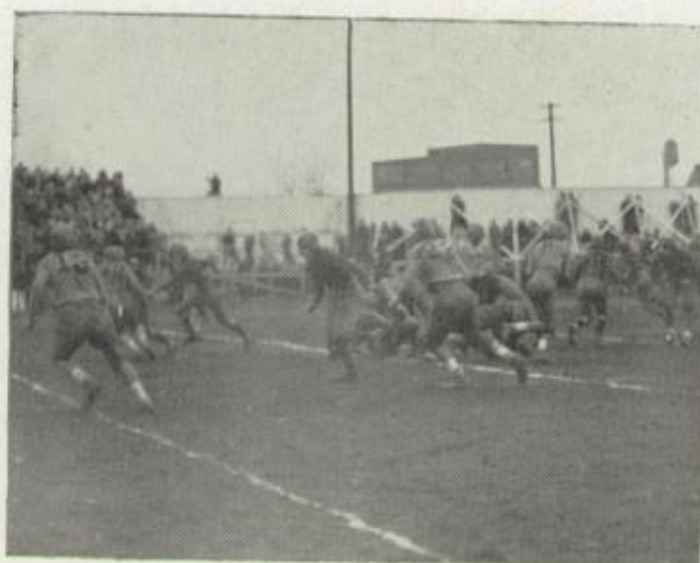

Dudley Klamp (Sully)
 Klamp is another product of Irvington. He will be back next year and we expect big things from him.

Jack Sligar (Sligar)
 Jack was one of our big fast tackles. He was always there to break up the opponents' plays.

Orin Shelton (Shiek)
 Orin played his second year on the varsity. He always filled his hole well in the line.

Eugene Hawley (Blugene)
Eugene came up from the second team and took Kesslers place. He developed into a sturdy end.

Loyd Corzine (Mouse)
Mouse was another boy who rose from the second team. He filled Morgan's place at end.

Vernon Struck (Diz)
Diz was our prize little line-bucker. He is upholding his family name in C. T. H. S. and will be back.

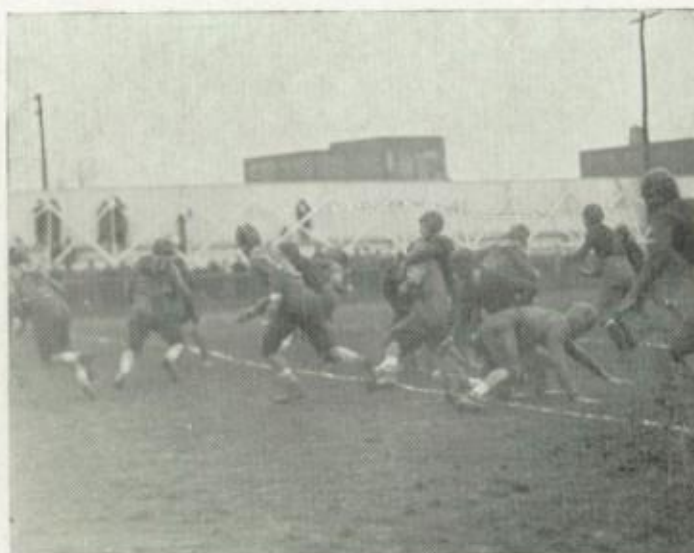

Frank Mooney (Beezar)
Bee was a little halfback on the second team. He played very well and will be back again next year.

Robert North (Bob)
Bobbie was our flashy little halfback. He always carried the ball well and broke up his share of the plays.

John Wood (Ox)
Ox was the big, chesty, fullback who was in on every play. John was a very good defensive man.

John Robertson (John Tom)
John came up to the front about the middle of the season and shows nice prospects for future use.

J. B. Smith (Creampuff)
J. B. was a crack end and he was plenty hard to keep out of the way of.

Martin Owen (Owen)
Owen came up from Mt. Vernon this year and was another dependable substitute.

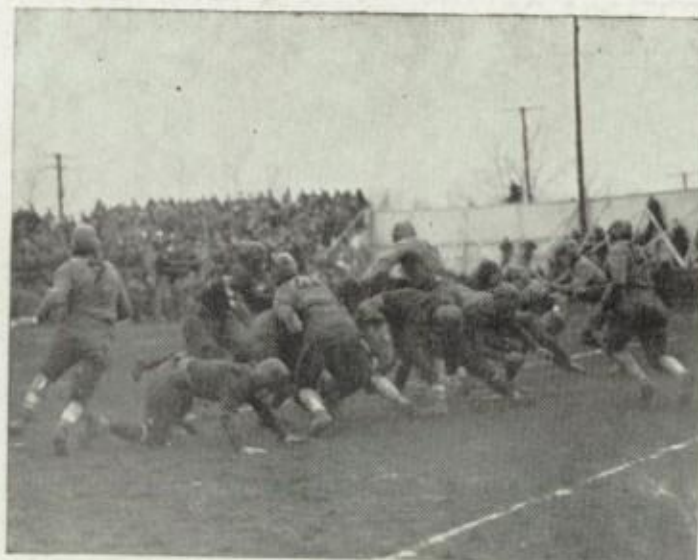

Stanley Hays (Blondie)
Stanley was an alert and snappy back-field man, good on both defense and offense.

Elijah Hays (Lige)
"Lige" was the fastest man on the squad and may develop into a very valuable man.

Fred Branson (Tubby)
Branson will be a very valuable man in all athletics. He has shown nice playing and is making fine progress.

Joe Kessler (Dopey)

Joe was one of the boys we lost early in the season. He was fast and played his end closely.

Carl Perry (Perry)

Carl was playing his last year and proved himself to be very fast and able to get down the field.

Robert McLaughlin (Firp)

Firp came through this year and showed a nice style of ball in his last year.

William Mooney (Bill)

Bill was one of our good backs. An old injury kept him out of part of the games.

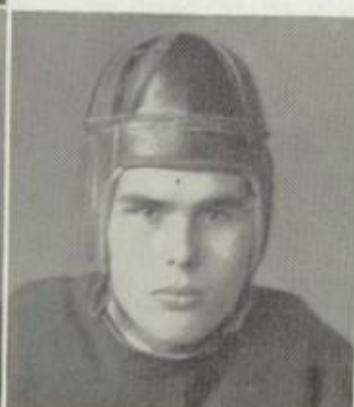

Floyd Ward

Floyd filled various places in the line when called on to do so. He will be back next year.

Carl Morgan (Maggan)

Morgan was both a good defensive and offensive man but an injury kept him out of the game for most of the season.

John Wood (Bing) Capt.
Wood played an excellent game and many of his long shots hit the basket. He also shone on defense.

Lowell Spurgeon (Lubey) Capt. Elect
Spurgeon was always there with his dead eye and brilliant play. We feel that we will have a very good captain.

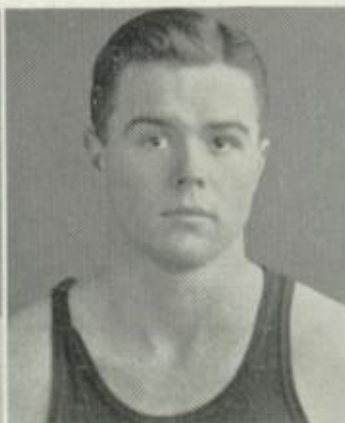

William Mooney (Bill)
Bill was one of our fastest men. He was a very clever passer and also a very good shot.

Gerald Keller (Doc)
"Doc" could always be depended upon for help in a pinch and he was used to a good advantage for replacements.

Loyd Lent (Winchester)
Bud is a steady little player and a dead shot. He will be back next year and we expect great things from him.

Robert North (Bob)
Bob finished in the middle of the year and the team felt his absence for some time.

Robert McLaughlin (Firpo)

Bob stepped into his place on the first team late in the season and we regret that we didn't find him sooner.

Jack Sligar (Jack)

Sligar has shown considerable improvement and still has two more years in high school.

Loyd Corzine (Mouse)

"Mouse" came through this year and showed a beautiful style of basketball. Loyd jumped center.

Fred Branson (Tubby)

"Tubby" has shown good signs for a regular in the future and we shall probably see him on the first string.

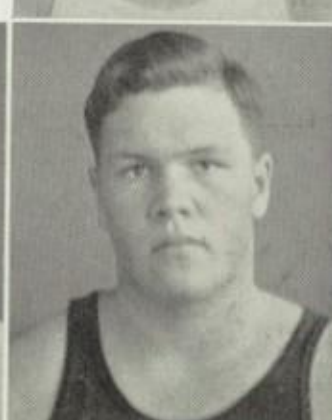

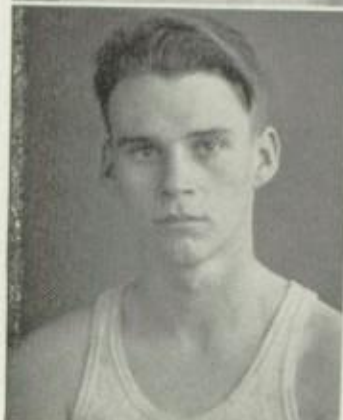

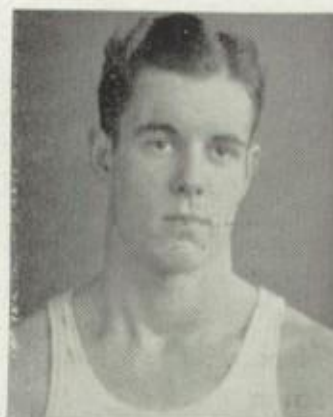

Harold Sweckard (Tiny)

Harold was always very dependable and good for help. He handled the ball unusually well.

Vernon Struck (Diz)

Diz is another boy who came to light in athletics this year. He is a dead shot and has another year to play.

Back Row—Duncan, Lazaretti, Waterbury, Loyd, Woley, Derrington, Focht, Welburn.
 Second Row—Curtis, Hortol, McMen, Frank, Owen, Wham, Robertson, Stewart, Perryman, Coach Lutz.

Lutz's Squad

When school opened last year, we were wondering who was to take the place of Assistant Coach Linthicum, who served in the Athletic Department for several years. The question was answered when Mr. Lutz, our new teacher, who is a graduate of Carbondale, took charge of the B squad in football and basketball.

Mr. Lutz scheduled a game for his boys with the Pinckneyville football team. The B team easily won their game by a score of 32 to 6.

The B basketball squad was also taken over by Mr. Lutz and they practiced on Tuesday and Thursday nights. They played various games with other teams in town and also in numerous preliminaries.

We appreciate the efforts of Mr. Lutz in the Athletic Department and feel that he is going to prove quite an asset to Coach Trout by preparing good material for the future.

Back Row—James, Pugh, Curtis, Fox, Eggers, Smith, Waterbury, Reese.

Track Schcedule

Carlyle Relays	Herrin Relays	District Meet at Lebanon
Mt. Vernon—Dual Meet	Conference Meet at Salem	State Meet at Champaign

The track team took first place in the Carlyle Relays and in the dual meet with Mt. Vernon, they also won. The Conference meet at Salem was captured by a large score and the team came away from the District Meet at Lebanon with second place.

In the State Meet, Spurgeon took second place in the High Jump which made him eligible for the Stagg Meet in Chicago. There he took second place with a jump of 6 feet, 3 1-2 inches.

Boys' Gym Classes

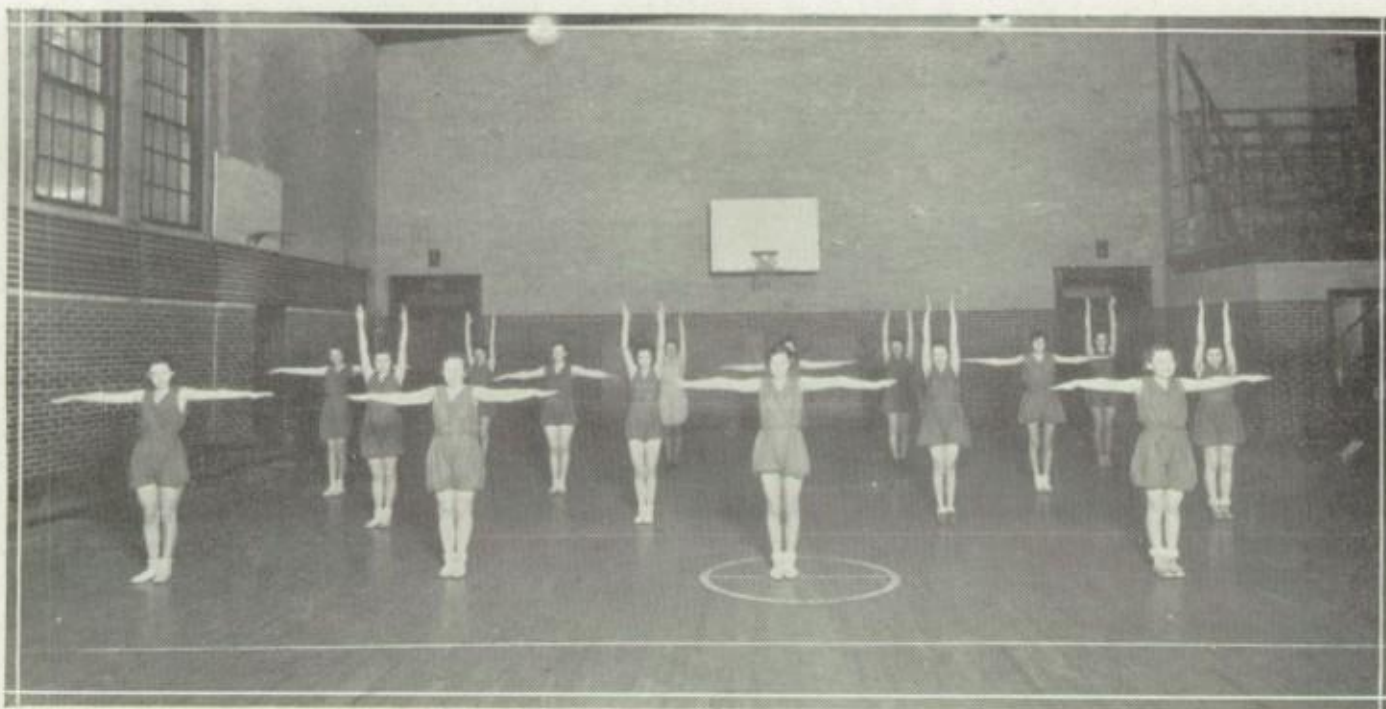

Coach Trout, Assistant Coach Lutz, and Mr. Lichtenwalter had charge of the boys' gym classes this year. The boys played basketball, took claisthenics, and in the warm weather they worked out on the track.

The boys were instructed in the various ways of keeping physically fit. Four things were stressed especially by the instructors and they are: Exercise which should be taken every day by every one, the technique of running, the cultivation of coordination, and the development of muscles.

The gym classes have always been a good source of material for the football, basketball and track teams.

It is the aim of the school to turn out into the world or into the colleges and universities of our country, men and women who are not only mentally capable, but physically capable as well. Perhaps we have not acknowledged the gym classes as a distinct part of our school curriculum, but they are rapidly pushing themselves forward and commanding recognition through their remarkable work in the development of both the physical and mental.

Many of our boys who are not strong and perhaps not quite normal physically have taken gym and the improvement has been remarkable and worth while to such an extent that it does not seem that physical education is stressed enough in our schools.

Girls' Gym Classes

And now for a few words about the girls' gym classes. They started the year off with a bang—banging tennis balls, for the first sport taken up was tennis. The girls enjoyed the sport and soon became adept at using the various strokes.

The next sport taken up was field ball. This was new to the girls but, as most new games, proved to be very interesting and, although it required quite a bit of head work and speed in action, the girls were pleased with it, and by the end of the six weeks period, could play a very nice game.

During the basketball season, each class had two teams which played against each other in class, the winner being eligible to enter the girls basketball tournament held in the gym after school. Excitement ran high all during the tournament and several very close games were played.

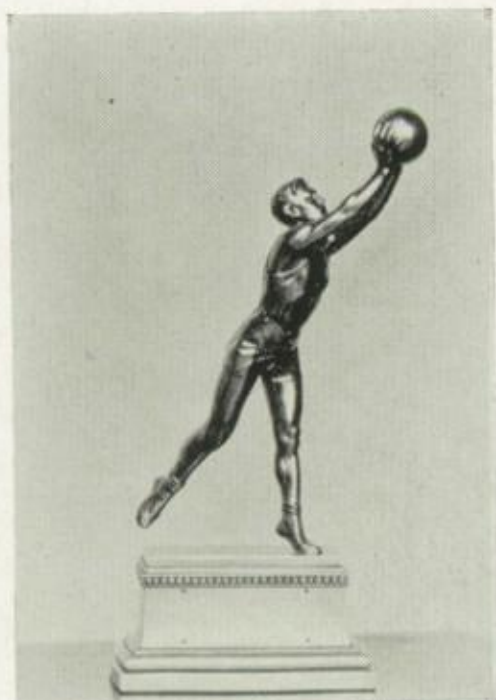

Among other games taken up during the year were volley ball, baseball, and various other games and gymnastic exercises. The month of April was taken up with practice for the May Fete.

The year as a whole proved to be very satisfactory and pleasing to all and we give our efficient director, Miss Bourne, credit for having a very well planned program.

The District Tournament this year was held at Sandoval, Illinois. Our team and Sandoval were favorites for winning the tournament and Centralia easily defeated all its opponents and Sandoval in the finals. This game was one of the best played by the team during the entire season.

Spurgeon, Wood and Corzine were picked for the District All-Star team from the Centralia squad. Nashville was picked as the team showing the finest sportsmanship in the tournament.

The Poem Without A Name

Come, lift your glasses high, you grads
The time is drawing nigh;
Let's drink a toast, a lasting toast
To Centralia Township High.

Another year draws to an end;
Another class must go;
So, friends, together one last time,
A toast before we go.

Time will not stay to let us play,
As we have learned before;
Soon we must pass the threshold
Of Life's great open door.

But friends we've made in high school days
Will be friends until we die;
In later years we'll love them still,
The pals of days gone by.

Come, lift your goblets high, you grads
The time is drawing nigh;
Let's drink a toast, a lasting toast
To Centralia Township High.

Autumn

As the sun peered through the branches into the shade of my room I arose, hastily slipped into my outing togs, and made my creaky way down the stairs into the kitchen where I prepared my breakfast. When I had finished eating I put up a light lunch to carry with me into the woods.

The moment I stepped from the kitchen door the frosty air nipped at my nostrils and made my breath visible. I crossed the lawn and started down a little-used road speckled with red, yellow, and brown leaves. A light wind rustled among them and seemed to bring them to life. As I swung along, snow birds flitted on each side of me, chirping as if to welcome the unexpected stranger along that seldom-used road. The sun winked at me from between playful white clouds that chased each other across the over-turned bowl of blue. The forests looked as if some giant painter had daubed each tree with red, yellow, green, crimson, and brown. In some of the fields stood shocks of corn heaped like Indian teepees, with fat, yellow pumpkins lying close to them.

Further along, the road twisted into a grove of trees, and here I caught glimpses of squirrels with fat, little cheeks, scurrying with provisions for the winter, to their homes. The air had now become warmer and the blanket of frost that covered the earth was rapidly disappearing. From across brown fields came the caw of a crow, lone scout of the black invaders, and from beneath the hedge by the road came the piping whistle of a quail.

Finally I came upon a spot which suited me for a resting place; it was under a large oak tree that stood by the road, under the shade of which the grass was still green and thick. I dropped at the foot of the tree, to rest and eat my lunch. The place was warm and comfortable, and I remained there for a long time, listening to the busy twittering snow birds, the thrilling melody of the blue birds, and the raucous shrill of the jay.

I fell asleep. When I awoke it was mid-afternoon. I stretched, and as I did so, I noticed a group of hickory trees I had not seen before. I climbed the fence, broke my way through an army of iron weeds, and started digging among the leaves for hickory nuts to fill my sack which I had brought along. I found, to my delight, that the nuts were larger and more plentiful than they had been the year previous. I soon filled my sack and started to go home; but as I turned again toward my resting place under the tree I discovered a certain species of fern about which I had always wanted to know. It is called a Marginal Fern. It is of an evergreen color with leathery fronds of blue green. It is never seen away from rocks and is always found in a dark, shady wood.

After examining it to my satisfaction, seeing that the sun was getting low, I returned to the oak, gathered up my lunch basket, and started home. Returning I saw many beautiful sights. The one that interested me most was a tiny white cottage set high on a hill and surrounded by tall pines which were an ever-present guard against the strongest attacks of the wind. As I neared home, I looked to the west. The day was dying; the sun had fallen below the horizon; and a few tardy clouds that were hurrying home were embroidered underneath with a delicate pink. Even as I looked again the pink died out; twilight deepened; a few stars twinkled; and a slight wind brought a chill across the fields. I saw a lamp fling out its cheery light across my lawn and I hurried in to eat a hot supper and to tell of my experiences of the day.

Stanley Hays.

Dependable

WHEN A human life depends upon unfailing illumination in the operating room; when a new industry demands limitless power to lift tremendous loads or drive mammoth machines, this Company must be prepared to supply electrical energy in any quantity and wherever it is needed.

Your community has this sort of service at its command, for our plants and distribution facilities are designed to care for any emergency. Without a strong and interconnected system, dependent on no one single source for power, such a service could not exist. An isolated plant, whether privately or municipally owned, could not hope to match this service.

But with this system and interconnection of power sources, this city and many others on our lines have constant, dependable and abundant power at hand to do their work and aid their progress.

Money Talks Over "Long Distance" to Modern Youth

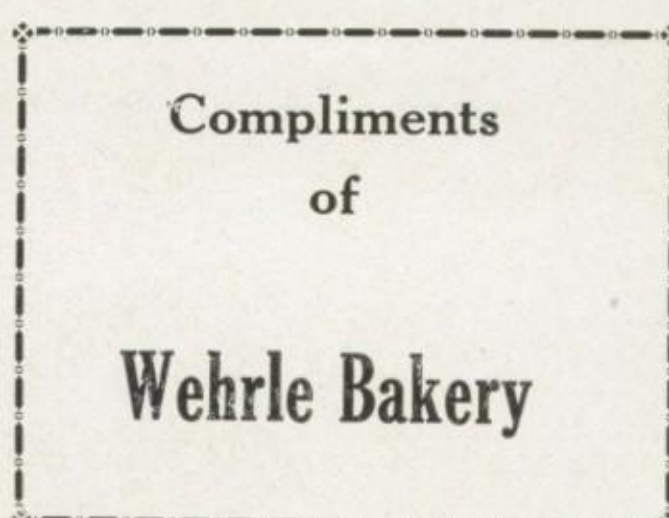

Money's voice carries a long way today, and when it talks on "long distance" the ears of ambitious modern youth should be glued to the receiver.

Money, of course, is not the supreme end of life, but it does stand at the beginnings of some of Life's most successful achievements.

Power comes with money saved; for, when Gold rings, Opportunity meekly answers the bell.

To the young man or young woman standing today at Life's beginning, we say this: "There are few things of importance that you hope to do in the future, that money in the bank will not help you to do, and that lack of money will not hinder or prevent you from doing."

CITY NATIONAL BANK

ELPHANUS

Elphanus is a large blue elephant. His face is dingy, his features have vanished, and only a dirty pink ribbon remains to prove that he was once a noble animal. Out of holes in his sides sawdust trickles, and the resulting lumpiness is far different from his former smooth contour. His broad face was my earliest assurance of welcome in this world. He supported my bottle and soaked up my tears. He was a soft warm consolation after punishment, a silent, wholly absorbed listener to my confidences. His presence in my little bed made me certain that nothing could harm me. He remained my favorite for five years although there were many other toys that might have supplanted him. I think that one thing which endeared him to me was that he always remained whole no matter how many tumbles he took.

Then one day Elphanus mysteriously disappeared, and I was inconsolable in my grief. For one whole day I remained in my room, refusing to play with my friends. Finally I became resigned to life without Elphanus, although I still wondered where he had gone. Now, years later, having been sent by my mother to get a box of toys from the attic, I know what happened to Elphanus.

Perhaps mother was right in banishing him. I can see now what an unsanitary companion he must have been. Years in the attic have not made him any more sanitary. There is probably no one who would care for him. "He is utterly worthless," I say to myself. Yet I carefully replace him in his dusty corner.

Dorothy Bozett.

"DESPISE NOT THE DAY OF SMALL THINGS"

You will soon embark upon the voyage of your business career. Your earnings will be meagre at first and perhaps you will think the small portion you can save is not worth while. This will be a mistake; start with the determination to set aside a certain per cent and adhere to it as your income increases and you are bound to succeed.

John Pate, '33 graduate, was awarded a prize of five dollars for the contributions he entered in the National Short Story Contest, which was conducted by Scholastic during the last semester. In the school assembly at which Principal Corbell presented the award, John expressed his gratitude and appreciation to Miss Josephine Harris, his English teacher, for her valuable assistance.

After having successfully fulfilled the requirements for the award of special Honor in Music, Robert LaMaster, presented one of them, on Commencement night, in the form of an original composition for violin. It was a very creditable piece and was well received by the multitude of graduation spectators. Robert LaMaster, '32, is the first student to attain this honor.
